The after the Holydays, however, it is hardly to be

By the first of the year, however, the friends of Peace may hope for an effectual demonstration.

JOHN VAN BUREN—the youngest hope of the Barnburners—arrived here this morning. He is well received by his friends. In case his august fasher tastets upon his determination not again to enter the political scena, John would not be a bad caudidate himself. His manners are more popular than the Ex Freedects, his moral character equally good, and if his political experience be not so great, he will be indepublied of no much

Supreme Court Proceedings of the House Resolutions
Mr Petiti of Isa - Of Mr. Holmes of S. C. - Of M.
Richardson of Ill. - Senatorial Proceedings.
From our own Correspondent.
Dec. 10. 1847.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20, 1847. The scene of greatest attraction to day was the Supreme Court. Mr. Webster, David B. Ogden of New York, John Van Buren and Willis Hall, were present as counsel in the "Passenger law" case -- an ar ray of legal ability which not even the Supreme Court often exhibits. Mr. Ognan has opened the case to day with his usual ability, and will be followed, I understand, by Mr. Willis Hall, The case has been argued, I think, once before.

The House, up to the time of the present writing—3 a clock—has been engaged in receiving resolutions. Sev-eral important ones bearing upon our relations with Mexico were offered, which, under the rule, ile over for one day. If they pass—and they undoustedly will— under unformation from Mr. Pox.la relation to his col-lusion with SANTA ANNA will be obtained than be has nore unformation from a reason of the health same has hitherto seen it to communited.

A decision of the Speaker that on a resolution embodying two propositions not in their nature inseparable even after the calling of the previous question, a motion to lay one of the two propositions on the table, from a desirate consider them separately, is in order, was overruled—a majority of his political friends votting against the Speaker. Parliamentary practice, however, confirms the propriety of this ruling.

The Resolution was introduced by Mr. Perrir of Ind. and insided upon the Powers of the General Government so to improve rivers as to promote the better transportation of troops, munitions of war, &c. and to make such appropriations for Harbors as would give freer interest and egress to ships of war, &c.

Mr. Perrir moved the previous question.

Mr. Right of S. C. moved to lay the resolutions on table, upon which Mr. Perrir called for the Ayes and New, which call was sustained, and resulted in Ayes 70, New 1241.

The New Harmschire Loco-Focos voted with the

We have also that the Sheriff of Perry, (Mr. Stokes, we think.) was killed. We have heard of no other life foot, although doubless this is not the only one.

Shiffs on First.—The ship Outario, Capt. Cheever, lying at Naw-Orleans leves, was discovered to be on fire last Saturday. The hatches werelisatened down, and she was towed beyond the shipping. It was expected that she would have to be scuttled. She was laden with cotton, which was insured in London.

The Wilmor Proviso.—Col. Walker has introduced into the Alabama Legislature, resolutions declaring that under no circumstances will this body recognize as binding, any coactment of the federal government, which has for its object the prohibition of slavery in any territory, to be acquired either by conquest or treaty, south of the line of the Missouri Compromite.

That the sat of the Pennsylvania Legislature, passed at last session, to prevent the claiming of fugitive slaves is a violation of the Constitution, and would justify retailiation, by setting aside and disregarding like supulsations in that instrument in favor of these States, and among them free access of their ships and commerce to our ports.

That the not taking so decided a step at the present.

Nose, which call was sustained, and resulted in Ayes 70. Nose 124

The New-Hampshire Loco-Foces voted with the Southern Abstractionists to prevent the beneficial extension of Governmental aid. They sells upon every possible opportunity to pay their instinctive homage to the Stave power. Mr. Wentwenth had a resolution similar in apirit, which he would have ediered but for the anticipatory movement of Mr. Petter. The provious question on Mr. P.'s resolution was not sustained. Mr. Hollens of S. C. offered a resolution for the restoration by the States of the money they obtained from the U. S. Treasury under the "Surplus Act," which money should be relauded before any new loan be effected. The resolution will not probably pass, and if it should, the money would nover be returned. States that don't pay their own citizens who have advanced money upon State credit and integrity, will hardly make good a loan from the General Government which they have ever considered a gratuity. The war would soon terminate it the question of its continuance depended upon the favorable consideration by the States of such a resolution or act of Congress.

Mr. Richardson of Ill a mon who, by the act, seems succumbed to make up for want of any former fame by greaten notoriety—Introduced a resolution urging on his infamous war to its extremity. It was in spirit and ment in the measure of the received and them a full endorsemen. Of the Prevident's message, he better indication of a want of sympathy with that message need the asked for than the necessity of selecting on unfedged manner like this, without anticedears net without promise for such a task. The a listion in the House was greater than the occasion warranted—by at after several imperative message.
